Seumas McSporrán is a very busy man. He is 60 years old and he has twelve jobs. He is a postman, a policeman, a fireman, a taxi driver, a school-bus driver, a boatman, an ambulance man, an accountant, a petrol attendant, and an undertaker. Also, he and his wife, Margaret, have a shop and a small hotel.

Seumas lives and works on the island of Gigha in the west of Scotland. Only 120 people live on Gigha but in summer 150 tourists come by boat every day. Every weekday Seamus gets up at 6:00 and makes breakfast for the hotel guests. At 8:00 he drives the island's children to school. At 9:30 he collects the post from the boat and delivers it to all the houses on the island. He also works at the island's only petrol station. Then he helps Margaret in the shop.

He says: 'Margaret likes being busy, too. We never have holidays and we don't like watching television. In the evenings Margaret makes supper and I do the accounts. At 10:00 we have a mug of tea and then we go to bed. Perhaps our life isn't very exciting, but we like it.'

Michael Walker writes a story.

I remember my first job. I worked in an outdoor café one summer. It was called Sunny's. I got free drinks and food. My boss Daniel was very friendly. He was also a very good manager. His brother Joe worked there too, but he was really strict. On my first day, I was late because I got lost on the subway. After that, Joe was never too happy with me.

So, every day, I served sandwiches and coffee. But the café was really busy all the time. I wasn't a very good server, so I was usually nervous. And I was always very tired by the end of the day.

One day, I was really tired, so I asked to go home early. Joe looked angry, but he said, "OK. Fine." I left and went to the subway. But then, I met my friend Rick on the street. He was a really good friend, and I liked him a lot. He said, "Do you want to go and eat something?" I said, "Yes. OK. Where?" And he said, "I know a café near here. Let's go there. It has good sandwiches."

So, we went back to Sunny's and sat down to eat! We waited for about ten minutes before Joe finally came over to the table. He was very busy, so he didn't look at me. He said, "I'm sorry. One of the servers left early. Are you ready to order?" We stayed for an hour. I was lucky - my boss never saw me. But I had to pay for my sandwich and soda.
