Read the article. Then chose the best response for the questions 1-4

Study from Home

1 Some universities teach high school classes online. For example, the University of Nebraska and Stanford University have online high school classes. They have students from all over the world.

2 Students choose online high schools for many reasons. Some teens¹ can't attend regular high schools because they have health problems. Many international students study online because they want to attend a university in a different country. For example, they want to go to a college in the U.S. or Canada, so they get an American or Canadian high school diploma² online.

3 Many teens take online classes because they want to make their own schedule. At an online school, they can study at night and on the weekends. Some students finish their classes very quickly online. Other students choose a slower schedule. At an online school, they can take more breaks and vacations.

4 But online high school is not always a good choice. For some students, it's boring to study alone. Some online classes are very difficult. For some students, it's hard to finish the work. And it can be quite expensive. At some online high schools, students pay $14,000 a year or more.

¹teens: people who are between 13 and 19 years old

²diploma: a piece of paper that shows you finished high school

City Farmers

1 How do you grow fresh vegetables in the middle of a city? It is possible in a community garden—a special area in a city for a vegetable garden. There are community gardens in cities all over the world, from Toronto, Canada, to Barcelona, Spain, and Bangkok, Thailand.

2 In the U.S., community gardens are becoming popular in many cities. For example, in Washington, D.C., there are more than 30 community gardens. The biggest garden is the Newark Street Community Garden. The garden is over 36 years old. It has more than 200 members.

3 Each member of the Newark Street Community Garden has an area of land called a plot. Every spring, the gardeners work together and prepare their garden plots. Each gardener chooses their vegetables. Some choose lettuce, cabbage, spinach, peas, broccoli, cucumbers, peppers, or tomatoes. In addition to vegetables, the garden also has fruit trees and bushes. For example, the garden has peaches, apples, raspberries, and blackberries. The members enjoy having fresh ingredients for their favorite dishes.

4 The Newark Street Community Garden is an active community with friendly people. There is a children's garden area, and there are places to play softball or soccer. Gardeners often have community dinners and picnics. They share information about growing produce'. Many people enjoy the fresh and healthy produce from the community garden.
