LISTENING TRANSCRIPT

Kirsten is my best friend. She's great to hang out with so we spend lots of time together. Kirsten is a bit lazy sometimes, just like me. Sport isn't our idea of having fun. We prefer staying at home, surfing the Net or chatting. She always listens to my problems and tries to cheer me up. I don't think I'll ever have a better friend.

I first met Tom at football practice. We play in the same team. He's alright, but he can be really annoying at times. He always thinks he's right about everything. He also wants people to do whatever he says and never changes his mind. This can be really difficult sometimes, especially in football, because it's a team sport and everyone must work together.

I like Mark a lot. He's not perfect, but we get along fine. I'm quite shy and I'm a bit lazy, too, but Mark is very energetic and makes me join him in all sorts of activities and sports. I don't know where he finds all that energy to do stuff. He really believes in himself and he always knows what he's doing. I like him for that - if it wasn't for him, I would just stay at home by myself and do nothing. The only thing I can't stand is that he doesn't keep any of my secrets. But I guess nobody's perfect.

1.

Todd: So how was your trip to London, Gerard?

Gerard: It was OK.

Todd: You don't sound very excited.

Gerard: Well, they took us to lots of places, but we didn't really visit any of the famous landmarks. It didn't feel right.

Todd: You mean they didn't take you to the British Museum?

Gerard: No.

Todd: Oh! That's strange. Did you at least go to the London Eye?

Gerard: No... I think this trip is ideal for people who have been to London before and want to explore other parts of the city.

Todd: That's too bad.

Gerard: I know.

2.

Max: Where are you going, John?

John: Home. Why?

Max: Don't forget to call Sam later about Saturday's trip, OK?

John: Don't worry. I won't.

Max: Are you sure? You're not going to sit in front of the TV all night and forget about it, are you?

John: No, but you're right. The first thing I usually do when I get home is turn on the TV, but not today. I have to study. As soon as I finish, I'll give him a ring. Anyway, if I don't ring him, he'll ring me. We're the type of friends who have to talk every day.

Max: Whatever you say.

3.

Man 1: Where were you yesterday? You were supposed to come to the exhibition with us. Did you forget?

Man 2: Well, no. I just thought it would be dull.

Man 1: You were wrong. It was definitely worth it. All the works of art were so fascinating!

Man 2: Really? I regret not coming now.

Jim: Hi, Mum! I'm back.

Mum: Jim! Is that you? Can you help me in the kitchen?

Jim: Mum, it's already eleven. Haven't you finished yet? My friends will be here in an hour.

Mum: I don't know how I lost track of time. I started at seven but I'm still not done.

Jim: OK, how can I help?

Mum: Can you see those onions in the bowl?

Jim: Yes.

Mum: I need to fry them. But before that, they need peeling. What do you say?

Jim: Sure. I can do that.

Mum: Thanks.

Jim: Is there a fork anywhere around here?

Mum: What do you need it for? Use that knife over there to peel them.

Jim: I just want to taste those mushrooms you've made. They smell delicious.

Mum: Come on Jim, we haven't got much time.

Jim: Sorry. Can I use this saucepan here?

Mum: No, I need to put this mixture in there. Use a bowl from the cupboard.

Jim: OK.

LISTENING TRANSCRIPT

Reporter: Hello, Mr Fisher. Will you tell us what happened to you last Saturday?

Mr Fisher: Well, I went for a walk in the woods as usual and my cat, Lizzie, followed me. When we returned home she wouldn't let me go into the house. She kept meowing and I couldn't understand why she was acting so strangely.

Reporter: She knew something was wrong and that something was going to happen, didn't she?

Mr Fisher: Yes, but I didn't realise at the time that she was trying to warn me. I just thought she didn't want to stay in the garden alone.

Reporter: So, what happened next?

Mr Fisher: Well, Lizzie jumped over the fence and I started chasing her!

Reporter: Really?

Mr Fisher: Yep. I chased her and after some time, I caught her to take her back home. But as I was walking towards the house, the earthquake happened. I just couldn't believe it!

Reporter: You were very lucky!

Mr Fisher: Yeah, I was. Lots of houses in my neighbourhood collapsed. You can imagine how shocked everyone was. Luckily, mine wasn't completely destroyed. There's a lot of damage but at least I still have a place to live, and most importantly, I'm alive.

- 1.
- Dad Did you do this? I didn't know you were into making things.
- Daughter Of course I didn't do it! Jenna did it.
- Dad It's a beautiful rug.
- Daughter This isn't a rug, Dad. It's patchwork. She made it for my room.
- Dad Oh, right. Well, it's great.
- Daughter I know. They have some art classes at school. Jenna is really talented. Some of the things she makes are out of this world!
- Dad What else can she do?
- Daughter Well, she likes sewing.
- Dad What about pottery?
- Daughter No, I don't think they learnt that at school. I hear it's pretty difficult, too.

- 2.
- Man 1: This is such an amazing place!
- Man 2: Yes, I love historic buildings.
- Man 1: Hey, come and have a look out of this window.
- Man 2: What can you see?
- Man 1: Well, the leaflet says that there used to be a river which ran through the town, and a bridge just over there.
- Man 2: I can't see it.
- Man 1: It's not there any more. The university is in its place.
- Man 2: Oh, I can see that.
- Man 1: It says that in the past, kings and queens used to come to the palace by travelling up the river in boats.
- Man 2: Imagine that.

- 3.
- Boy 1: So, have you had a look at the leaflet with the courses?
- Boy 2: Yes, but I haven't decided yet. Tell me you're not into drawing or painting?
- Boy 1: No, I'm not the artistic type.
- Boy 2: Good. My brother took the Spanish course last year and he said it really helped him on his trip to Madrid. So, how about Spanish?
- Boy 1: I don't know. Sounds like hard work and no fun.
- Boy 2: But the only ones left are karate and taekwondo. Are you sure you want something so extreme?
- Boy 1: It could come in useful.
- Boy 2: I suppose you're right.
- 4.
- James: Look out there. I hate it when the weather's like this.
- Robert: Me too. Foggy weather just makes me feel down.
- James: It wasn't like this when I was travelling around Mexico, I can tell you.
- Robert: Lots of sandy beaches and hot weather, eh?
- James: Not really. Clear blue skies yes, but the temperatures were about the same as here.
- Robert: Really?
- James: Yeah, not very warm.
- Robert: Too bad.
- James: I didn't mind. I don't like really hot weather.
