Question No. 2

What is the best concluding sentence for the paragraph below?
 Sometimes we are afraid of things that are not likely to happen. Only 256 people died of bird flu between 2003 and 2009. Fewer than 300 people have ever died of mad cow disease. Despite this, people are afraid of these diseases. Also, it is very rare that you hear about a plane crash on the news, even though there are thousands of flights around the world every day.

C

- To sum up, people are afraid of spiders, but most spiders cannot harm them.
- In conclusion, a lot of people are scared of getting sick.
- Unfortunately, many people have unnecessary fears.
- In addition, more people die in car accidents than plane crashes.

Question No. 1

Reading 1.1: Read the article and choose the best answer for each item: a, b, c, or d.

A Dangerous View

1 Is crime increasing in your town or city? In many places, crime rates are going down. The truth is that crime rates are much lower today than 30 years ago. However, most people believe that crime rates are increasing. They think that violent crime happens in their towns and cities all the time. Sometimes we are afraid of things that are not likely to happen. Violent crime frightens us, but it is not very common. The world is a safer place today than it was in the past.

2 The first story on the evening news is usually a story about violent crime. On some news shows, over 40 percent of the news stories are about crime. Why is there such a focus on crime? Just because scary shows and news programs are popular. However, television does not give people a true idea of the level of danger in the world. Here is an interesting example. In 2013, the rate of violent crime in the United Kingdom went down by 9 percent. However, a study showed that during that idea. People believe that the world is a safer place today than it was in the past. This is because facts show that we should learn to worry more.

1 2 3 4

Question 1:

The underlined pronoun 'they' in paragraph 3 refers to

- a children
- b parents
- c friends
- d neighbors

Question 2:

What is the main idea of paragraph 1?

- a Many people are too scared to talk to their neighbors.
- b The first story on the news is usually about violent crime.
- c Television's emphasis on violent crime is harmful.
- d Some people avoid going out because they are scared.

Question 3:

In paragraph 2, which of the following supporting sentences gives a reason?

- a People believe there is more crime than there really is.
- b In 2013, the rate of violent crime in the United Kingdom went down by 9 percent.
- c However, television does not give people a true idea of the level of danger in the world.
- d It is because scary shows and news programs are popular.

Question 4:

According to the reading, which of the following statements is TRUE?

- a The world is a safer place today than it was in the past.
- b Facts show that we should learn to worry more.

idea. People believe there is more crime than there really is. They think violent crime is common.

<sup>3</sup> This exaggerated focus on violent crime affects people's lives in a negative way. This focus on violent crime results in increased feelings of fear. In order to protect themselves, some people avoid going out. They do not talk to their neighbors. As a result, they know and trust fewer people. Many parents keep their children inside their homes, away from their friends. They believe the world outside is too dangerous for them. The children watch more television and don't walk, run, or play sports outside. They become less healthy. This is true for older adults too.

<sup>4</sup> Television's focus on crime makes us believe the world is a scarier place than it is. This fear makes us lonelier and less happy which has a bad effect on our health. Facts show that we should learn to worry less. It's good to be careful and stay safe. However, the world around us is actually safer than we think.

Question No. 2

What is the best concluding sentence for the paragraph below?
Sometimes we are afraid of things that are not likely to happen. Only 256 people died of bird flu between 2003 and 2009. Fewer than 300 people have ever died of mad cow disease. Despite this, people are afraid of these diseases. Also, it is very rare that you hear about a plane crash on the news, even though there are thousands of flights around the world every day.

- To sum up, people are afraid of spiders, but most spiders cannot harm them.
- In conclusion, a lot of people are scared of getting sick.
- Unfortunately, many people have unnecessary fears.
- In addition, more people die in car accidents than plane crashes.

<sup>3</sup> This exaggerated focus on violent crime affects people's lives in a negative way. This focus on violent crime results in increased feelings of fear. In order to protect themselves, some people avoid going out. They do not talk to their neighbors. As a result, they know and trust fewer people. Many parents keep their children inside their homes, away from their friends. They believe the world outside is too dangerous for them. The children watch more television and don't walk, run, or play sports outside. They become less healthy. This is true for older adults too.

<sup>4</sup> Television's focus on crime makes us believe the world is a scarier place than it is. This fear makes us lonelier and less happy which has a bad effect on our health. Facts show that we should learn to Question 2 : What is the main idea of paragraph 3?

- Many people are too scared to go outside.
- The first story on the news is about crime.
- Television's emphasis on crime makes people afraid.
- Some people avoid going out.

Question 3 : In paragraph 2, which of the following is the reason for the fear?

- People believe there is more crime than there really is.
- In 2013, the rate of violent crime increased by 9 percent.
- However, television does not show the real danger in the world.
- It is because scary shows are popular.

Question 4 : According to the reading, which of the following is true?

- The world is a safer place than it is.
