

حلول رابط
الاونلاين R&W

Book1

Year 1441h

Moving Back Home

When children grow up and leave home, 1 parents can experience some sadness. They talk about “empty nests,” which are homes where the children have left to make their own lives, like little birds that fly away. Now there is another phrase that is common in discussions about adult children: “the .boomerang generation

A boomerang is a hunting tool from 2 Australia. When you throw a boomerang in the air, if it doesn't hit anything, it comes back to you. Now many adult children, like boomerangs, are returning to their parents' homes. The main reason for this is financial. Living on your own is expensive. You have to pay for rent, utilities, and food. When the economy is bad, many people lose their jobs. Some of them move back in with their parents. Some parents worry that this generation is being lazy. They think their adult children must learn to do their own laundry .and cook their own food

It's difficult to know how many boomerang 3 children there are. Experts do not always agree. Roderic Beaujot, a Canadian professor, says that in 2001, 44 percent of Canadians between ages 20 and 29 lived with their parents. An American website says that 25 million young American adults live with their .parents

Michael Rosenfeld of Stanford University 4 doesn't accept the idea of a boomerang generation. He believes that in the past, more young adults lived with their families. He says that modern children are actually more independent. For example, in the 1940s in the United States, 70 percent of single adults between ages 20 and 29 lived with their parents. But in 2005, only 39 percent of single women and 46 percent of single men at the .same age lived with their parents Rosenfeld's work shows there are fewer 5 boomerangs now than in the past. The idea of living with your parents as an adult is not new.

Perhaps what changed was what parents expect. Today more people think that children should grow up quickly and become .independent

According to a Canadian professor, what percentage of young Canadians lived with
* ?their parents in 2001

46

20

44

29

According to Michael Rosenfeld, when were there a great number of young adults
* ?living with their parents in the 1940s

in the 1990s

in 2005

in 2001

* ?What is an empty nest

a house where the parents moved away a home where the children grew up and left a house where there are a lot of birds a home where the children came back home

According to the author, what
* ?changed

children's ideas about living at home children became lazy and dependent the number of adult children at home parents' ideas about children

Read the story. Then read each excerpt and .choose the inference that you can make

My Amazing Mother

Sometimes my life is a little difficult and I 1 feel sad or negative. Then I think about my mother. She worked hard all of her life. She lived in difficult times, but she always had a .positive attitude

My mother was born in a poor family. There 2 were six children to feed. Everyone worked.
Her father worked for the railroad. Her mother washed people's clothes. My mother worked in factories. She wanted to go to college, but she also wanted to help her family. In the 1940s, she drove trucks and worked as a secretary. She saved her money and started college classes. She finished two years of .college

Then my mother married my father and they 3 had their child. My mother stopped college, but she did not give up her dream. She taught elementary school part-time and saved her .money

In the 1960s, my mother started college 4 part-time. She took college classes in the evening and on weekends. During the day, she worked. She graduated from college at the age of 52. She taught elementary school full-.time for 13 years and then retired

I am very proud of my mother. She worked 5 hard and never gave up. She had a positive attitude and everything worked out. My daughter and my son love hearing her tell her .wonderful stories

Sometimes my life is a little difficult and I feel sad or negative. Then I think about
* .my mother

The writer feels good when he thinks about his mother.

The writer feels bad when he thinks about his mother.

The writer is a very sad and lonely person.

The writer's mother was often very sad and lonely.

She taught elementary school
* .full-time for 13 years

She teaches part-time now.

She is teaching college now.

She is studying in college again.

She doesn't teach now.

She wanted to go to college, but she also wanted to help her family. She drove trucks
* .and worked as a secretary

She lived with her family.

She didn't have any money.

Her parents didn't want her to work.

She gave money to her family.

She graduate from college at the age of 52. She taught elementary school full-time
* .for 13 years and then retired

She stopped working at the age of 65.

She was an excellent teacher in the school.

It was very difficult for her to teach school.

She was a college student for 20 years.

Book 1 Oxford LMS

Alternative Test (R&W)

*مطلوب

Language Use

I usually feel _____ before an
* .important exam

friendly

nervous

fresh

My boss reminds me that in business, the _____ is
* .always right

customer

level composer

We are in the 21st _____, a time when the world is
* .growing closer village ceremony

century

Smoking has many _____ effects; for example, people who smoke often get cancer.

*

regular negative

violent

You can the prefix (un-) to the
* ._____ word

happy

shy perfect

Photos

For You

Albums

Search

I'm going to make the

* _____

essay

bed dishes

The news focuses on _____ crime, even though crime
* .rates are decreasing

violent

violence violently

Dictionaries never provide example sentences for
* .vocabulary words

False

True

It's not easy _____ jobs that

*.fit our personalities to find to finding finds

Lina wants _____ architecture after she

*.graduates from high school to study studying studies

In Saudi Arabia, you should _____ shaking hands with *.your left hand

avoiding avoid to avoid

Photos

For You

Albums

Search

late to work every day _____

* .will upset your manager

Being

To being

Be

Amal has a very negative

* ._____ about her job employee average

attitude

Ali cannot _____ on his study because he is thinking of

* .many things prevent concentrate communicate

Book 1 Oxford LMS

Alternative Test (R&W)

*مطلوب

Use the preposition _____ with places like work, home,
* .and school

in

on at

An elephant is _____ than
* .a lion bigger more big big

التالي

رجوع

Read the paragraph. Then choose the best topic sentence.

We laugh more when we are with other people. Studies find that we are 30 times more likely to laugh with other people than alone. Laughter is also contagious. When one person laughs, other people begin to laugh, too.

Read the paragraph. Then choose the best topic sentence. We laugh more when we are with other people. Studies find that we are 30 times more likely to laugh with other people than alone. Laughter is also contagious. When one person laughs, other people begin to laugh, too.

Laughter connects us with other people.

Sometimes we laugh and we don't know why.

Laughter is healthy for our bodies.

Supporting sentences give more information about the
* .details

True

False

A time line is a list of important events and when
* .they happened

True

False

However) rarely comes in the)
* .middle of a sentence

True

False

However) rarely comes in the)
* .middle of a sentence

True

False

A concluding sentence sometimes reminds the
* ._____ reader of the main idea

supporting idea