Read the passage below and choose the best answer to the question.

Kodinhi is a small village in Kerala in south India. It is a typical village, but its people are not typical. 2,000 families live there and 290 families have twins. In India four babies in 1,000 are twins, but in Kodinhi 45 babies in 1,000 are twins.

Mohammed Ali Pottayi's family is from Kodinhi. He and his wife have seven boys. Four of their sons are twins. Mohammed says, " my wife and I are very happy with our family. Everyone in the village is happy."

But why are there so many twins in Kodinhi? How is it possible? The village doctor says it isn't genetic; he thinks it is something in the water or the food. But no one has an answer and scientists want to know more.
